UoM to demarcate, fence lake buffer zone

Registrar writes to Survey Department seeking land identification and marking

Savitha

Mysuru, Mar. 21 (BLU&BCT)- The University of Mysore (UoM) will demarcate and fence the buffer zone around Kukkarahalli Lake to protect the lake premises from encroachments and fencing by private parties.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, UoM Registrar M.K. Savitha said, a formal letter has been sent to the City Survey Department and the Urban Property Ownership Records (UPOR) authorities seeking identification and marking of the buffer zone.

The move follows the recent fencing of a 2.20-acre parcel of land on the banks of Kukkarahalli Lake within the Manasagangothri campus, opposite the Srikantadatta Narasimharaja (SDNR) Wadiyar Stadium on Open Air Theatre Road.

A Bengaluru-based builder has claimed ownership of the land, stating that it was purchased about 14 years ago. However, the land falls within the lake's buffer zone, raising concerns as it is Government land that has reportedly been converted for private use.

Questions are being raised about the role of officials from the erstwhile Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) in approving the conversion on Feb. 3, 2021.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

We are in the month of fasting. Many would have fasted during the recent Maha Shivaratri. Many will be fasting during Lent and Ramadan, both of which are currently going on. We are so focussed on fasting as nothing but self-denial from food and drink that we forget the larger purpose of why we fast, a classic case of in-attentional blindness — a psychological phenomenon where an individual fails to perceive an unexpected, fully visible object or event in plain sight because their attention is intensely focused on another task.

Fasting during Shivaratri is to increase the power of your prayers, of concentration, of meditation. We stay awake in the night and fast the entire night and day. We are carrying forward the tradition of Goddess Parvati who held the throat of Lord Shiva to prevent the poison from spreading in Lord Shiva's body. Lent commemorates fasting over 40 days when the devout imitate Jesus Christ who spent fasting in the desert before entering public ministry. These are the days leading to Easter which celebrates the Resurrection of Christ. It is a time of penance and prayer. Ramadan is the ninth month of the Islamic calendar; it is believed that the Quran was revealed to Prophet Muhammed during this month. Fasting is one of the pillars of Islam when the pious abstain from food from dawn to dusk. It is a period of contemplation.

In all cases, fasting is considered as time of prayer, of heightened spirituality, of becoming God-conscious, of piety, of building patience. It is a reminder of the condition of the poor and needy. It is a period of letting go — our physical need for food, our ego and to surrender to the Almighty. It helps one appreciate God's infinite blessings better. When you eat food or drink water after you have denied yourself over a period, it makes you grateful. It purifies you spiritually — and as medical science tells us, it also makes you healthy as it releases toxins. Fasting should make us better persons — humble, helpful, empathetic especially after a period of introspection and meditation.

Each of us need to ask ourselves if after our period of fasting we have indeed become better persons, or were we so obsessed with the performance, the act of fasting, that we forgot the larger purpose of such fasting. And we cannot even call this in-attentional blindness — this would be a case of, plain and simple, blindness.—Najib Shah in Deccan Herald

Youth steals bus to take girlfriend!

Wiesbaden: A youth from Wiesbaden, Germany, snuck into a bus depot, got access to one of the vehicles' master key and managed to drive away with a bus without anyone noticing. Technically, the theft was recorded by CCTV cameras, but the staff simply assumed the bus had been taken by one of their drivers.

Although the bus was taken around 6 am, Police were notified later that afternoon. The company believed that one of the drivers had accidentally taken the wrong bus and it was only after checking with all their staff that they realised it had been stolen.

A patrol car in Karlsruhe spotted the bus and officers were shocked to find a youth behind the wheel. He had just picked up his girlfriend from school and was apparently driving back to Wiesbaden. Luckily, no casualties were reported, and the bus was returned to its owners without so much as a scratch.

$29,000 offer to give up DLs for 5 years!

Valletta: Malta, Europe's smallest country, has one of the highest vehicle densities on the continent and traffic congestion is a constant issue. To mitigate this problem, authorities have come up with an ingenious programme titled 'Driving License (DL) Surrender Scheme,' which is designed to incentivise people to surrender their driver's license for a period of up to five years.

Through this innovative programme, Malta is offering young drivers 25,000 euros ($28,650) to voluntarily hand over their DLs. Payments are made in yearly instalments of 5,000 euros and beneficiaries must return the amounts on a pro-rata basis, if they change their mind before the agreed five years have passed. Malta has allocated €5 million annually to this scheme, limiting the number of beneficiaries to 1,000 people per year.

14 tenants attend MDA public hearing, 3 seek more time

MDA Secretary K. Johnson hears arguments, receives documents; other tenants given time till Apr. 2

Mysuru, Mar. 21 (BLU&BS)- Mysuru Development Authority (MDA) has started public hearing over the eviction of tenants in Duplin Complex at Shivarampet and D. Devaraj Urs Road in city on Wednesday (Mar. 18). While 14 tenants had appeared for the hearing, remaining three had sought some time to appear. They have been given time till Apr. 2.

MDA Secretary K. Johnson, conducted the hearing at his office in MDA premises on JLB road in the city. This follows the recent order of the High Court to initiate eviction proceedings as per The Karnataka Public Premises (Eviction Of Unauthorised Occupants) Act, 1974.

The tenants of 14 shops, who produced documents before MDA Secretary during the hearing, argued that they were the authorised owners of the shop. The remaining three are expected to produce documents on Apr. 2.

Meanwhile, K.S. Santosh, the tenant of shop No. 5/A, D. Devaraj Urs Road claimed that, "The shop was allotted by Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA, which later became MDA) and the supporting documents have been submitted to MDA Secretary Johnson. During the tenure of C. Basavegowda as MUDA Chairman, the shop was allotted to us. But, MDA is arguing that with the Superintending Engineer and Executive Engineer issuing the sanction order, it has no legal validity."

"Earlier too, when Jayaram was MUDA Commissioner in the year 2000, followed by his successors Pankajkumar Pandey in 2005 and Kantharaj in 2018, there were attempts to evict the shops, spanning 26 years. However, all such attempts have turned futile, due to the corroborative documents available with the shopkeepers. If MDA restores action to evict the shops, we will move Court," added Santosh.

MDA Secretary Johnson said, "As per HC directions the notice was issued to tenants under Public Premises Act. Of the total 17 tenants, 14 had turned up for hearing, while three others have sought some time. They have been given time till Apr. 2."

"It is not possible to evict tenants without giving them due time to present their arguments. All the documents will be verified, only after the remaining three tenants participate in the public enquiry. Subsequently, MDA will go ahead as per law," he added.

VOICE OF THE READER

Planting done, care neglected

Sir,

The Mysuru City Corporation (MCC), in association with the Horticulture / Urban Forestry Department, regularly undertakes plantation drives across the city. Saplings are also planted by Good Samaritans who care deeply about Mysuru's greenery.

Until recently, these efforts were followed by systematic watering and maintenance by MCC gardeners or private contractors, ensuring a good survival rate for the plants.

However, of late, though saplings continue to be planted, there appears to be no proper arrangement for their regular watering and upkeep.

As a result, many of the saplings planted by the MCC wither away within weeks, defeating the very purpose of the initiative and resulting in avoidable loss to the public exchequer.

With summer already setting in, it is imperative that the MCC urgently restores proper responsibility for watering and maintaining saplings planted along roadsides and medians so that these well-intentioned drives translate into real environmental benefits.

INTERNATIONAL WOMEN'S DAY SPECIAL...

Veteran beautician Veda Rai highlights perseverance, skill development and the importance of patience and self-belief in sustaining success in the beauty industry.

BEAUTY Matters...

Be strong, be fearless, be beautiful, is the phrase that succinctly conveys the qualities a woman should possess in life. There ain't any woman who doesn't want to look beautiful, let alone appear strong and fearless.

To cater to such women, there are many such beauty parlours / salons, run by women, aka beauticians, in this city, who have carved a niche of their own, braving odds that came in their way and have come this far.

Vedavathi Rai, better known as Veda Rai, has been a beautician for 33 years, which shows her zeal and perseverance in building her career. As the Founder Secretary of the Mysore Beautician Welfare Association, she served for 20 years and is now serving as its President for the past five years.

On the occasion of International Women's Day, Star of Mysore spoke to Veda Rai, where she recalled the past, delved into the present and shared her plans for the beauty industry. Excerpts:

By B. Sreekantswamy

Star of Mysore (SOM): Can you recall the emergence of beauty parlours in Mysuru? What are the circumstances that compelled you to take up this particular profession, which has brought you this far?

Veda Rai: A BA graduate, I was a teacher first and had worked in a few schools. As I was thinking of starting my own venture, I was attracted towards this profession. Those were the days, when the beauty parlour industry was so naive, the beauticians were more into doing basics like make-up, hair styling, unwanted hair removal, etc.

Considering the social taboo that existed earlier, when cutting hair was itself considered inauspicious, it was difficult to attract customers, especially women. During Ashada, we were fully out of business. Over a period, things gradually changed. Women, including those from rural areas, had a change in stance. Most importantly, they realised that beauty boosts one's confidence.

SOM: Do girls from North-Eastern States continue to work in large numbers in parlours?

Veda: Yes, they do. They are preferred as they are hardworking. Hailing from outside the State, they either stay in rented homes or in paying guest accommodations. Their diet is also simple: Rice or noodles. They work all through the year, for longer hours and go on a vacation once a year.

SOM: Is the number of beauticians increasing or decreasing, given the challenges involved in the trade, from investment to sustainability, adapting to newer methods and competition to stay afloat?

Veda: It's a mixed situation, as some new parlours are being opened and the existing parlours are also shutting down. The reason is the craving for instant success and failure in business perspectives, without any acumen to maintain a fine balance between revenue and expenditure.

To stay afloat, one should invest more in their skills, rather than splurging on swanky interiors. The most important thing for any business to succeed is patience. One should focus more on quality products and should never cheat customers.

SOM: Compared to early days and now...

Veda: Unlike earlier days, when beauticians were equipped with basic qualities, nowadays it is highly technical. They should possess skills like why, what and how of the job. For example, they should be well versed with the application of creams, their effect, usage of machines, temperature, etc. Hence, attending seminars on a regular basis to keep abreast of relevant changes is essential.

SOM: Does the increasing access to social media have anything to do with the growing trend of adapting to beauty tips?

Veda: Yes, of course. We were once handing customers catalogues to choose hairstyles. Now, with mobile phones coming in handy, we show the customers how to make a choice. Some come with their preferred choices of hairstyles downloaded on their phones.

SOM: Beauty parlours are considered a small-scale industry. How is the support of Government schemes?

Veda: The Government support is good, especially the MUDRA (Micro Units Development & Refinance Agency Ltd.) scheme of the Central Government, but it's a lengthy process.

SOM: What is your message to those women outside who are still afraid to take up challenges?

Veda: If you really fit the bill, then you should work hard. As said earlier, patience counts and God will bless only those who work hard. You should believe in yourself like, 'got it and will do it'. The success is guaranteed.

SOM: Nowadays, even men are working in parlours or salons, rather hi-tech parlours...

Veda: The unisex parlours are the new additions and are doing well, too. Sometimes, we too receive enquiries.

SOM: Do you take up short-term courses to hone your skills, suiting the current trend?

Veda: I still attend seminars regularly to keep myself updated. Ayurveda is the in-thing, with many preferring herbal facial, pedicure and many others.

> "If you really fit the bill, then you should work hard. As said earlier, patience counts and God will bless only those who work hard. You should believe in yourself like, 'got it and will do it'. The success is guaranteed."

SOM: As the President of Mysore Beautician Welfare Association, what plans do you have for the good of your members?

Veda: The thrust is on educating the members about new trends to stay updated. As we firmly believe in 'quality over quantity', we have 300 members in the Association against 2,000 to 2,500 parlours in the district.

We impart training on how to improve business and hone competitive skills. I always advise aspiring women to at least pursue a one-year Diploma in a beautician course. If one is qualified enough, there is no question of looking back. Apart from honing theoretical skills, practical knowledge also counts.

SOM: Your family support?

Veda: I humbly recall my late husband, B. Narasimha Rai, a Mechanical Engineer, who worked for Birla's Polyfibers in the Gulf, without whose unwavering support, I couldn't have tasted success in my career. So also my son, daughter, daughter-in-law, son-in-law and my granddaughter.■

Awareness drive marks World Sparrow Day

Children, participants take away earthen bird houses, water bowls, bird feeders

Mysuru, Mar. 21 (MTY&BCT)- People For Animals (PFA), Mysuru, in association with Jeev Daya Jain Charity (JDJC), marked World Sparrow Day on Mar. 20 at its shelter in Bogadi with a programme aimed at creating awareness about sparrow conservation.

Senior Pranic Healing Trainer B. Vaibhav, who was the chief guest, referred to the historical 'Chinese Black Years,' when sparrows were killed in large numbers, resulting in ecological imbalance and serious consequences. He underlined the important role sparrows play in maintaining the natural balance.

Pointing out that sparrows once nested easily on rooftops and in open spaces, Vaibhav said such opportunities have dwindled due to changes in urban structures. Providing artificial nest boxes near homes and ensuring food and water, he noted, could help revive sparrow populations for the future.

Eco-friendly materials such as earthen bird houses, earthen water bowls, bird feeders and water bowls for dogs and birds were distributed to encourage people to support urban wildlife.

A highlight of the event was the introduction of two innovative game boards conceptualised by Kokila Ramesh Jain to create awareness among children in an engaging way. One board game focuses on basic knowledge about sparrows, while the other explains how to install and maintain bird houses.

Kokila said that if these boards reach schoolchildren, they could play a meaningful role in educating young minds about sparrow conservation.

As part of the green initiative, fruit-bearing and flowering saplings were planted by the chief guest and participants to encourage the creation of natural habitats for birds.

Savitha Nagabhushan of PFA, Mysuru, who coordinated the programme, stressed the importance of planting native trees and providing water, food and nesting spaces to support sparrow conservation and urban biodiversity.

Prakash, President of PFA, Mysuru, Dr. Amardeep Singh, Dr. Kiran, Anil (Manager), Priya, along with animal lovers, volunteers and children were present.

UoM to fence lake buffer zone

According to records, Sites 1/4A, 1/4B, 1/4C, 1/4D, 1/5A, 1/5B, 1/5C and 1/5D were formed near Bhudevi Farm in an area originally earmarked as a public park and later converted into a commercial zone.

Savitha had earlier clarified that while converting the land for commercial use, official records failed to reflect the presence of Kukkarahalli Lake on the eastern side of the property.

Land demarcation

The Registrar added that the University has also sought demarcation of its other lands around the lake, including the Horticulture Department area, to ensure legal protection. Once the buffer zone is marked, fencing will be installed around the lake to safeguard the area.

UoM Registrar Savitha further said that when the issue came to light last week, a complaint was submitted to the Mysuru Development Authority (MDA) Commissioner K.R. Rakshith, regarding a private party erecting a board on 2.20 acres of land.

"The MDA Commissioner has acknowledged receipt of the letter and assured that records will be verified after Monday, following which a clear explanation will be issued," she said.

Savitha emphasised that the University intends to protect not only Kukkarahalli Lake but also its adjoining properties.

Questions over other encroachments

Meanwhile, some observers have questioned the University's approach. They argue that, since Kukkarahalli Lake and the surrounding land already belong to the University, identifying a buffer zone may not be necessary.

Well-wishers have also cautioned that if the administration does not take firm and systematic steps to protect its assets, it could inadvertently encourage land grabbers.

They point out that unauthorised petty shops and sheds have already begun appearing within the Manasagangothri campus and warn that unless immediate action is taken, such encroachments could grow into a larger problem in the future.

Police disconnect mike

The event also witnessed the artistes expressing their disappointment over the Police Department for disconnecting mike and sound system while the concert was still in progress.

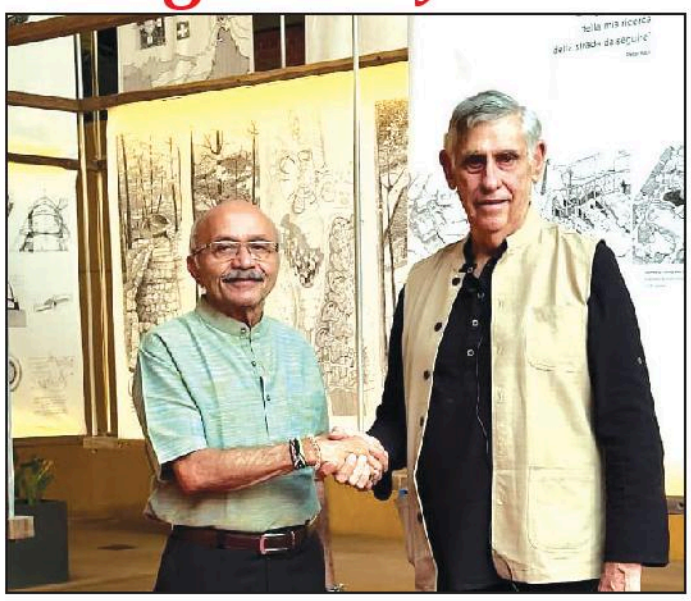
The 'Bhava Ugadi' programme, which did not commence on time owing to a technical glitch and keyboard issue, exceeded the allotted time beyond 10.30 pm.

At this time, the Police deployed at venue disconnected the mike and sound system denying permission to extending the programme. This led to artistes and organisers expressing disappointment over the Police action.

The artiste argued with the Police stating that it was an insult to artistes to disconnect the mike while the programme was still underway. Later, Additional DC Dr. P. Shivaraju intervened and convinced the artistes.

The 3-day 'Ugadi Sangeethotsava' was inaugurated on Thursday in the presence of KR MLA T.S. Srivatsa, MLC Dr. D. Thimmaiah, DC G. Lakshmikanth Reddy, Mysore Palace Board Deputy Director T.S. Subramanya and others. It will conclude today (Mar. 21) with musical night by Zee Kannada reality show artistes.

Architectural Expo begins at JCAC



Art patron and industrialist Dr. M. Jagannath Shenoy (left), who inaugurated the architectural exhibition featuring the works of celebrated South African architect Peter Rich at JCAC in Vijayanagar 1st Stage yesterday, is seen greeting the architect.

Mysuru, Mar. 21- An architectural exhibition featuring the works of celebrated South African architect Peter Rich began at Jagannatha Centre for Art and Culture (JCAC) in Vijayanagar 1st Stage here yesterday.

The expo, which showcases Peter Rich's critically acclaimed installation from the 2018 Venice Biennale, was officially inaugurated by art patron and industrialist Dr. M. Jagannath Shenoy and Peter Rich, followed by an insightful presentation by the architect himself.

Titled 'Landscape Architecture - Architecture Landscape,' the exhibit brings to Mysuru the same 'Temple of Light' concept that captivated international audiences in Italy. The installation explores the profound relationship between human-made structures and the natural world, featuring Rich's signature hand-drawn sketches and documentation of African indigenous space-making. Known globally for the award-winning Mapungubwe Interpretation Centre, Peter Rich's work is a masterclass in 'Freespace' — architecture that serves the community and honours the environment.

This exhibition offers a rare, immersive look into the creative process of a Pritzker-level visionary whose designs weave together the archaic and the contemporary.

For aspiring architects and design enthusiasts, this serves as a unique opportunity to study the intricate fluidity of landscape and form through the lens of a global master.

The exhibition will be open to public between 10 am and 7 pm, till Apr. 5. For details, contact Mob: 78990-33303.
